

Dr. Ellen Lacomis is a Board-Certified dermatologist who has practiced in Massachusetts since 1999, with medical staff appointments at several area hospitals. She provides the full spectrum of dermatologic services, ranging from medical and surgical approaches to cosmetic and pediatric practice.

Prior to joining Krauss Dermatology, Dr. Lacomis was a Partner in Northeast Dermatology Associates, during which time she also served as a Clinical Assistant Professor of Dermatology with teaching duties at Tufts-New England Medical Center.

Dr. Lacomis trained in both internal medicine and dermatology at the University of Michigan Medical Center. She received her medical degree from the University of Virginia, and was awarded a bachelor's degree in biochemistry with honors from Cornell University.

Dr. Lacomis is member of a number of professional societies including:

- American Academy of Dermatology
- New England Dermatologic Society
- Massachusetts Medical Society.

In addition to her office-based practice at Krauss Dermatology, Dr. Lacomis is also a Consultant Dermatologist at the following institutions:

- Newton Wellesley Hospital
- Beth Israel Deaconess Needham Campus